

Probably the most famous house design in America is Falling Waters designed by Frank Lloyd Wright and it has not been updated with trendy colors. The original color from 1938 exist today as good design stands the test of time .

I am not fixed on no change as existing Villas earth tone pallet can be tweaked but stark white would be offensive to myself and many others –Ambrose