Subject: Jack Lake Storm Recovery

Good morning, Mayor Jim MartinHavelock Belmont Methuen

This is a link to pictures provided to me showing the alarming extent of damage on Jack Lake. .most but not all are of properties located in HBM.

It is now apparent that the scale of the damage requires immediate government assistance at different levels.

I have shared these pictures with about 500 folks on Jack Lake who are now aware of the big picture and very concern about what can be expected from our Governments under these most unusual circumstances.

Over the weekend it became apparent that anxieties are escalating among the most affected property owners and road users related to appreciating the enormous task facing everyone involved and the realization that the cleanup is beyond the capacity of individual property owners. Islanders are trying to determine a path forward which is the most challenging and solutions need to be found.

My initial request to you was to have convenient brush debris depots established which certainly would assist many but other Jack Lakers are suggesting that debris from private properties be pick up at the ends of driveways similar to announced programs in other municipalities such as Peterborough is committed to do. Also, I want you to be aware that others are taking position thatbased on the extensive tree debris on private properties.... well beyond capacity of owners to resolve.. that government funded programs are needed to address the overall task.

I was encouraged to received today a news release from 2018 where the Ford Government step up and assisted Ottawa and other rural Townships with storm recovery cost including tree removal on private properties.

I understand you will be meeting with MPP David Smith this week and this hopeful could be basis of initiating required steps to declare Jack Lake as an affected area and immediately have a Provincial Disaster Assessment Team visit Jack Lake this week. We certainly can be available to provide a boat tour of the most seriously impacted parts of our Lake.

Commendable that Ford Government has acted in the past to assist private property owners with storm debris removal

OTTAWA - As recovery efforts continue in the Ottawa region, the Government for the People is using every program and tool available to assist those in tornado affected areas. Today, Premier Doug Ford announced additional funding of $1.568 million to help in the recovery effort has been sent to the Ottawa region.

The funding will be used to support non-governmental organizations involved in removing debris from private residences; support tree removal on private and commercial properties; and supplement Public Works and Forestry capacity to remove debris.

"When I visited the impacted communities, I witnessed firsthand the aftermath of the tornado and storm in the Ottawa area," Premier Doug Ford said. "I am deeply thankful to the first responders, hydro crews, the municipal emergency management staff and officials, and the countless volunteers who have worked tirelessly to help the thousands of people who have lost so much. I will ensure the province uses every tool at its disposal to help the people of Ottawa recover and rebuild."

Provincial officials are working to support the City of Ottawa's Recovery Task Force, as well as the city's Community Support Centres. The province's Disaster Recovery Assistance for Ontarians program, designed to help people affected by natural disasters get back on their feet, was activated on September 22, and has now determined eligible neighbourhoods for applications. Beyond Ottawa, the program is also helping those affected by the tornado in the Township of Greater Madawaska, and the downburst in the Township of Central Frontenac.

"The City of Ottawa greatly appreciates this support from the Province of Ontario for emergency cleanup efforts," said Ottawa Mayor Jim Watson. "This funding will help the City of Ottawa with its recovery efforts. The removal of trees and debris on private property remains a priority, and our Public Works and Environmental Services department, specifically Forestry Services, has been working around the clock. This assistance will help residents return to their regular routine as quickly as possible."

"During this difficult time, my government is doing everything we can to ensure people are safe," said Premier Ford. "We will continue to provide whatever resources we can to help in the recovery, clean-up and rebuilding effort. I want to thank Ministers Merrilee Fullerton and Lisa MacLeod, and local MPPs from all parties for their efforts in helping their communities. I also want to thank Minister of Municipal Affairs and Housing, Steve Clark and Minister of Community Safety and Correctional Services, Michael Tibollo for their support."

Provincial actions taken to date and underway include:

- Coordinating assistance to Ottawa through the Provincial Emergency Operations Centre as well as deploying staff to the City of Ottawa Emergency Operations Centre
- Working with the Electrical Safety Authority to ensure reconnection inspections are occurring in a timely manner
- Liaising with the Insurance Bureau of Canada to help resolve claims as quickly as possible
- Multiple Provincial Disaster Assessment Teams were deployed to the area
- Mental health specialists from the Emergency Medical Assistance Team have been sent to the Nepean Sportsplex (Community Support Centre) and West Carleton Secondary School to provide onsite support

- ServiceOntario is waiving certain service fees, and offering free driver's licence or Ontario Photo Card replacements for those in affected areas
- Coordinating with telecommunications critical infrastructure partners
- Working with energy sector partners to restore power and ensure hydro crews are adequately supported and resourced
- Extended hours at waste disposal sites to support the recovery plan
- Assisted with debris removal on provincial highways
